PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Lawton Junior High School was opened in 1957. Since then, many exceptionally fine young people have obtained their education here, and have talent their place as members of the Beverly Community and as citizens of our nation. Although the days they spent at Lawton are memories of the past, we remember all these young people with pride. Through the years, the combined efforts of our students, parents, and teachers have produced a school we can all be proud of. I am pleased that you, the classes of 1971-72, have maintained this outstanding reputation, through your academic achievements, your loyalty to your school, and your admirable school spirit; and that you have continued to make Lawton a school where the students and staff work together and succeed together.

Grade Nines, I wish to commend you for your enthusiasm, cooperation and devotion to your studies. It was a real pleasure to work with you this year. I know that you can go forward with confidence to face the challenges and opportunities that will present themselves when you leave Lawton; and that you will have many worthwhile contributions to make to your community and to society. As we say good-bye to you, it is our sincere hope that your dreams, ambitions, and ideals will be realized in the coming years.

May I take this opportunity to thank the Yearbook Staff and Mr. Chebuk for the many extra hours they spent to produce this Yearbook. Congratulations for a job well done!

To all the students and parents of Lawton, I extend my best wishes for a pleasant summer holiday and a future filled with happiness and success.

WILLIAM NEKOLAICHUK,
Principal.

Hard exam, Kevin, isn't it?

My, this is a great class to be in.

My, look at that wiggle!

To survive a man must daydream.

Now, what did I do?

Look at those legs!

Isn't he in his glory?

Up, up, and away

Ah! You got me. I give up.

Look at me do my daily exercises.

Hee, hee, hee, it sure must be funny.

FRIENDS

Yvonne Bedard - 7E

No one in this world,
Can live without a friend.
No one in this world,
Can be without a friend.
No one in this world,
Can be happy without a friend.
I'm glad,
I have a friend.

But we don't know how to bark.

THE CAMPFIRE

by Nicolette Litun - 9B

As another log is added, you can hear the sizzling of the birch, see the bright flames rising, smell the freshness of smoking pine needles, feel the warmth and taste the bitterness in the smoggy air which comes from that blazing torch, the campfire. A dry twig, perched on a glowing group of logs, is set ablaze by the flashing tongues of fire and its gay glitters give a twinkle to the radiant sky above. You can see the small sparks dancing as the flickering twig falls crackling down to the red hot coals below. But Now the blaze must go. The dancing sparks and glowing coals must die for this huge campfire is being extinguished. Hear the hissing as the tremendous torch is doused. The cool splashing is joined by the swishing of flying sand. Now it is still. There are no longer mighty flames as that of an angry dragon puffing fire like one gigantic match were in his nostrils. There is only the dimness of the dying coals amongst the ashes and the odd puff of smoke as another ember expires.

SPRING

- Darceen Presisniuk - 7E

S is for the shining SUN
P is for the smiling PEOPLE
R is for RAINY showers
I is for the melting ICE
N is for the NICE warm weather
G is for the GREEN, GREEN grass.

SPRING TIME

- Brenda Stadnyk - 7E

Spring comes only once a year
And is so colorful and bright,
All the flowers start to bloom
And birds you always hear.

Spring is a joyful time to sing
And bring out the old and new,
When lads and lasses dance around
They know what spring will bring.

SADNESS

- Julie McNamee

Sadness comes from many things
from loneliness
or a broken heart.

Sadness comes from fear and war
from death and tears
from dead men everywhere.

Sadness comes from frustration
and from worry
or from being thwarted

It comes from life
and also death
Sadness comes from many things.

THE ROSES

- Cliff Kile

Three roses stand,
In a meadow of green.
One stands for love,
Another stands for happiness,
The third stands for hope.
I hope these roses stand,
Forever within your heart.

LONELINESS

- Sandy Shostak - 8F

It's when you want to reach out
But everyone turns away.
It's when you want to get out
But you're trapped
In loneliness.

It's when you walk
With no one with you
You laugh on the outside
But cry down deep
It's loneliness.

SLUM KID

The boy slowly and cautiously walked into the large department store. He quietly worked his way over to the watch counter. Two dark skinned hands emerged from cartoon flairs, and filled green cloth pockets. Taking a wistful glance, he quickly started to leave . . .

"Hey you, stop!"

The dark skinned lad broke into a run but two men systematically blocked the doorway. He charged at them only succeeding in receiving a blow to the chest. He slumped over, and fell to the ground. Into a small room he was taken.

"Sit and wait."

Fifteen minutes later a clean-cut man waltzed into the room.

"Shoplifter, eh?" Do you have anything to say?"

The boy remained quiet.

"When I ask a question, I want an answer!"

The boy remained quiet.

"Maybe that was too hard, eh?" What's your name?"

The boy slumped in his chair.

"The name!"

The boy scratched his head.

"This is useless."

The man picked up the phone receiver, paused, looked at the phone, he said, "Police Department?"

He looked up only to see an empty chair and a closing door.

"Jennifer, Get the doors covered!"

"Yes sir." replied the switchboard operator.

The boy ran down the service stairs stopping at every floor.

"Hey!"

The boy ran faster.

"I just want to talk."

The boy had enough talk.

A large group of women walked down the stairs and the boy seeing his chance gradually mixed into them.

said one of the women.

No one seemed to notice the extra head. Later as the group neared the door of the store, the boy darted from the group, and ran past the supposed guard. The boy slowed down three blocks later.

"Nuts!", yelled the man who was guarding the door.

"Simmer down, Simms!" said the clean cut man.

"What kind of home did that boy come from anyway?"

"My guess is a slum or a ghetto", stated the man.

"Same difference." said Simms.

The boy turned into a small pawn shop.

"What do ya got kid?" asked the man.

"Six watches", stated the boy.

"Thirty bucks, take it or leave it."

The boy left the pawn shop 30 dollars richer.

"Some slum kid", slurred the man in the shop.

The boy started to walk home now, soon he arrived at a large, colorful house. Into the front door he marched then into the kitchen where sat a large man in a blue uniform with a badge. The boy grinned and said, "Hi, Pop!"
